Captain Underpants: The First Epic Manga (From the Creator of Dog Man)

By (author) Dav Pilkey , Illustrated by Motojiro
Apr 07, 2026 | Paperback, Trade | $20.99

The #1 global bestselling Captain Underpants series returns! Based on the first sensational chapter book, it's a reimagined adventure perfectly paired with all-new manga artwork. Captain Underpants: The First Epic Manga is written and adapted by Dav Pilkey, illustrated by manga artist Motojiro, and totally reinvented for a new generation of readers. Tra-la-laaa!

Following the story arc of the first original chapter book, Captain Underpants: The First Epic Manga is reenvisioned as an engaging graphic novel reading in Western style (left to right). With dynamic manga artwork by Japanese artist Motojiro, all-new Flip-O-Ramas, and much more, it will captivate existing fans, capture new readers, and appeal to comics, manga, and anime aficionados alike!

Combining humor and action with empowerment and empathy, Captain Underpants: The First Epic Manga features the amazing adventures of best friends George Beard and Harold Hutchins and their waistband warrior superhero creation, Captain Underpants! He's faster than a speeding waistband, more powerful than boxer shorts, and able to leap tall buildings without getting a wedgie. Night and day, Captain Underpants fights for truth, justice, and all that is pre-shrunk and cottony!

The Captain Underpants series, which was launched over 25 years ago, was instrumental in creating the illustrated children's chapter book category that's still popular today.

For additional awesome, action-packed, inspiring escapades filled with creativity and imagination, read Dav Pilkey's Dog Man, Cat Kid Comic Club, Super Diaper

Contributor Bio

When Dav Pilkey was a kid, he was diagnosed with ADHD and dyslexia. Dav was so disruptive in class that his teachers made him sit out in the hallway every day. Luckily, Dav loved to draw and make up stories. He spent his time in the hallway creating his own original comic books -- the very first adventures of Dog Man and Captain Underpants. In the second grade, Dav's teacher ripped up his comics and told him he couldn't spend the rest of his life making silly books. Fortunately, Dav was not a very good listener.

Motojiro has been creating manga for over thirty years. His work includes a wide range of stories, including the Time Warp series and the Battle Brave series (Asahi Shimbun Publications). Motojiro also creates manga for educational materials for elementary and junior high students. He is a member of the Japan Cartoonists Association and lives in Japan.

Talons of Power: A Graphic Novel (Wings of Fire Graphic Novel #9)

By (author) Tui T. Sutherland , Illustrated by Mike Holmes
Dec 30, 2025 | Paperback, Trade | $20.99

The graphic novel adaptations of the #1 New York Times bestselling Wings of Fire series continue to set the world on fire!

For every villain, there is a hero ...

Turtle isn't one of the heroes he reads about in stories. If he were, he'd use his animus powers to help Pyrrhia -- instead of keeping his abilities a secret, even from his own sister. Now that Darkstalker, the sinister and impossibly old dragon from Pyrrhia's most notorious legends, has returned, Turtle knows his own role is simple: hide. And stay hidden.

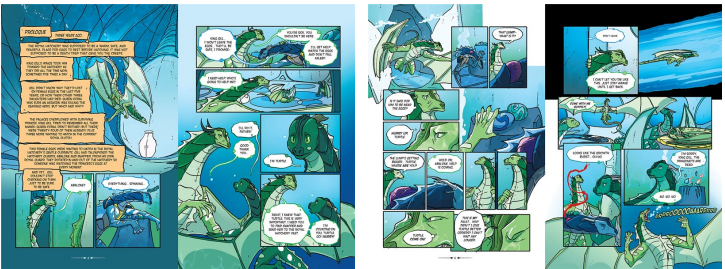

The more he watches Darkstalker from the shadows, the more Turtle knows that someone needs to stop the powerful dragon. A real hero. But Turtle is running out of time to find one, which means ... he might have to try to save the day himself.

The #1 New York Times bestselling Wings of Fire series soars to new heights in the ninth graphic novel adaptation, with art by Mike Holmes.

Mixed Feelings: A Graphic Novel

By (author) Sara Amini , Illustrated by Shadia Amin
Apr 07, 2026 | Paperback , Trade | $20.99

Through a mix of humor and heart, this charming middle grade graphic memoir explores evolving friendships, puberty mishaps, and finding a place to belong. Perfect for fans of Real Friends, The New Girl, and Pizza Face.

Things are getting hairy!

When Sara wakes for the first day of sixth grade, she's horrified by the sight of fuzzy black hair sprouting from her legs -- and her parents won't let her shave! Being mixed race, Sara's been unsettled in her own skin (now buried under leg hair), never really feeling like she belongs anywhere. To add to the confusion, her best friend, Monica, is suddenly spending every second of the day with Aneliese, making Sara wonder if she belongs there, either.

Navigating friendships, school, and bodily changes starts to get overwhelming, but Sara finds comfort in TV -- whether she's watching it, performing her favorite scenes, or imagining her life is a show itself. So when she joins drama club, Sara feels like she's finally discovered a community where she can be anything she wants, including herself. But with Monica joining the club, too, will Sara lose her new sense of belonging?

By (author) Dave Scheidt , Illustrated by Alex Arizmendi
Mar 03, 2026 | Paperback, Trade | $23.99

Andi has loved horror movies her entire life, so when a job opens at her local theater, she jumps at the opportunity. Now she can see as many free horror movies as she wants. But why is she the only one working at the theater? When a batch of new teen employees show up, they start to disappear almost as quickly. This has to be some sort of joke, right? And why do these old Bendy cartoons keep playing in the empty theaters? There is something dark and inky in the basement... and it's not the type of horror that Andi wants to see.

This eye-catching and chilling original graphic novel is perfect for fans of horror movies, thrillers, terrifying games, and anyone who's ever heard anything go bump in the night.

Reviews

Praise for Rise of the Earth Dragon (Dragon Masters #1):

"In this first of the Dragon Masters series, vocabulary is accessible; sentences, paragraphs, and chapters are short; and dialogue moves the story along rapidly. Black-and-white sketch-type drawings add depth to the story and feelings to the characters (both children and dragons). Emergent readers will find happy success here." -- Booklist

"The first of a new series of early chapter books, this entry is sure to attract fans. Brief chapters, large print, lots of action, attractive illustrations in every spread including a maplike panorama, an enviable protagonist -- who wouldn't want to be a Dragon Master? -- all combine to make an entertaining read. With plenty left to be resolved, the next entry will be eagerly sought after." -- Kirkus Reviews

We are Dragon Girls -- hear us roar!

Selena and her friends Charlotte and Layla are shocked to discover they are all Flower Dragons. They have been called to the Magic Forest because each girl has special talents this unusual place needs to survive. Selena is a Sunflower Dragon—she has traded her human form for powerful wings, glittering scales, and a roar that shakes the ground.

As a Dragon Girl, she must help break the evil spell that the Fury Queen has cast over the Magic Forest. The forest's animals are deep in a sleep they can't wake up from, unless the Flower Dragons can collect all the ingredients for a special perfume. Selena's hope glows as bright as the tallest sunflower and she's determined to lead her friends to success.

Read all the books in the Flower Dragon arc!

Geronimo Stilton 85

Interiors

Quint le a Mouse?

Geronimo, the most FAMOUS newspaper on Mouse Island.

I had planned the PERFECT day. First, I would have a quiet breakfast of cherry toast and my favorite chicken-strawberry smoothie. Then I would take a SHORT walk around the botanical gardens to visit my favorite ducks. After that, I would head to the office and work on an article I had been wanting to write.

I got out of my bed, WISHED away, and went to the kitchen. Nothing gets the day started like a YUM, delicious smoothies. I twisted my whiskers with excitement.

But just as I had dropped the strawberries into the blender, a sudden noise SHOOK the whole kitchen!

SLAM! SLAM! SLAM!

Hairy cat tails! What was that? I was so surprised. I jumped in the air and my paw hit the blender's POWER button. I hadn't put the lid on yet, so bits of strawberry and shards of chicken flew all over the kitchen.

Quint le a Mouse?

My toast was covered in STRAWBERRY goo. Smoothie dropped down the walls and made POWERS on the floor. My favorite breakfast treat was now my Worst NIGHTMARE Squal!

The loud sound came again.

SLAM! SLAM! SLAM!

I could tell now that the noise was coming from outside, so I rushed to fling open my door.

There I saw my next-door neighbor, Mrs. Ratchin, holding a carpet on her balcony.

SLAM! SLAM! SLAM!

She hit the carpet against the wall of the building to knock the dirt out of it.

Quint le a Mouse?

"What are you doing?" I yelled.

"THE GARDENS!" she shouted cheerfully. Frosted frosting, this was no way to start my nice quiet day. I decided to skip the smoothie and head out for my walk instead. Maybe a long stroll in the spring air would be just what I needed.

I set out for the botanical gardens, enjoying the bright sunshine. At the garden, I walked until I found the most BEAUTIFUL bench next to the pond. I hoped the ducks would be here soon.

I closed my eyes and took a deep breath in. Nothing smells as good as the first POUR of the year — except maybe a ham-and-cheese soufflé!

Ahhh, finally PEACE and QUIET. But suddenly

POOOOOOOON!

Getting the worst superpowers was one thing, but now, losing them could be even worse.

Contributor Bio

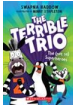

Swapna Haddow grew up in the UK and wrote her first book at age eight. She wishes she'd kept it, but it seemed like a good idea at the time to trade it for two stickers and a couple of marbles! Her first published book was the hilarious junior novel Dave Pigeon, which grew into a laugh-out-loud, award-winning series. She has since written many funny, colourful and much-loved picture books as well as further junior fiction series. Swapna loves to write stories filled with boisterous animals causing mayhem, with friendship and humour consistently at the heart of her work. Minky Stapleton is a multi-faceted illustrator with a range of styles, all with a dash of humour. An award-winning Art Director and Creative Director originally from Johannesburg, South Africa, Minky gave up advertising to follow her first love, illustration. She now resides in Auckland, New Zealand, where she balances illustration projects with running classes for kids on how to design scary monsters. Minky has illustrated many titles for Scholastic, from hilarious picture books to historical fiction and high-energy, heavily illustrated junior fiction.

Healing begins with a tail wag.

A heartwarming and fun middle grade series from bestselling author Erin Soderberg Downing about a unique animal sanctuary, the full-time family who live there, and the rotating stable of animal guests who will learn what it really feels like to be loved and cared for.

Siblings Ruby and Henry have an unusual kind of home life compared to their friends. Their family operates an animal sanctuary with a unique collection of full-time pet residents: a pig, a dog, the world's bossiest cat, two silly goats, and a llama who thinks he's a human. Not to mention, Ruby and Henry's mom is also a vet at the animal clinic in town.

Let's just say, when it comes to animals, it's hard for Ruby and Henry's family to say no. But a couple months ago, their parents decided that the farm is full. No additional resident farm animals. No more fosters. Of course, rules are meant to be broken...

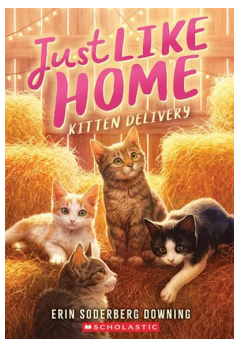

A scared puppy has just arrived at their mom's clinic, and he's lost mobility in his back legs because of an injury. What's worse is that the newly named Arlo clearly knows he's been abandoned. But with Ruby's builder brain, Henry's heart, and a little bit of kindness from their raptur group of animals at the sanctuary, they

With seven new house guests with seven very different personalities, it's only fitting to name them after the seven dwarfs. The hard part is going to be finding good homes for each unique kitten. If anyone can do it, it's Ruby and Henry.

But first, they're going to need to keep their new campers feeling safe and well taken care of while they grow big and strong enough to be adopted. And as it turns out, this will be harder than it seems.

The Road From Nowhere

By (author) Avi

Jan 06, 2026 | Hardcover $27.99

Inside one of America's most troubled periods of economic crisis, The Road From Nowhere, from master storyteller and Newbery medalist Avi, is both a tightly plotted adventure and a big-hearted tale of boyhood that explores what it means to put a name to the feelings we're taught to push down far into the earth.

There's one road in Gatchett's Gluch—population forty-five—a silver mining town in the high Colorado desert. That means there's only one way in and one way out.

Fourteen-year-old Ollie feels trapped and restless, desperate to find his own lode of silver, so he can gain riches and get his family out of the town. As the man of the house, he feels that's his job, just as his younger brother Gus's job is to ask question after question. Though Ollie is unwilling to admit it, he doesn't have all the answers. He can't even read, unlike Alys, the only girl and only friend he has outside of Gus.

Meanwhile, a man who calls himself a geologist has arrived in town. Not only can he read books, he can read rocks, the first person that Ollie has ever seen who looks at rocks with fascination, not desperation. Most important, he knows how to stake a silver claim. So when Ollie, Gus, and Alys stumble upon a cave rich with silver and form a friendship with that geologist, the future suddenly looks good.

Good Different (Scholastic Gold)

By (author) Meg Eden Kuyatt
Jan 06, 2026 | Paperback, Trade | $13.50

A Schneider Family Book Award Honor Book

"The next Wonder. Good Different should be required reading." -- Good Morning America

Why be normal when you can soar like a dragon?

This paperback edition of the beloved novel Good Different includes exclusive bonus content!

Selah knows her rules for being normal.

She always, always sticks to them. This means keeping her feelings locked tightly inside, despite the way they build up inside her as each school day goes on, so that she has to run to the bathroom and hide in the stall until she can calm down. So that she has to tear off her normal-person mask the second she gets home from school, and listen to her favorite pop song on repeat, trying to recharge. Selah feels like a dragon stuck in a world of humans, but she knows how to hide it.

Until the day she explodes and hits a fellow student.

Selah's friends pull away from her, her school threatens expulsion, and her comfortable, familiar world starts to crumble.

Dream Big (Clifford the Big Red Dog)

Created by Norman Bridwell , By (author) Meredith Rusu ,
Illustrated by Jo Anne Davies
Jan 06, 2026 | Hardcover $27.99

Clifford the Big Red Dog and his best friend, Emily Elizabeth, inspire readers to dream big and keep growing in this beautiful original picture book. It's perfect for graduations, baby showers, and fans of Oh, the Places You'll Go!

When I was little, my parents used to tell me if I dreamed big, anything was possible.

They said the sky was the limit.

And I would tell Clifford the same thing!

Clifford and his best friend, Emily Elizabeth, both started out small in a big world. But they grew big together and learned to keep dreaming, even when they felt small. When they were feeling scared, they had each other to lean on. And when one of them needed help, their best friend was always there to lend a helping hand (or paw!).

This beautiful, inspiring picture book serves as an important reminder that with a little love and the support of the people around you, there's no limit to how much you can do. Because you don't have to BE big to make big dreams come true. Big dreams happen when you take small steps, one at a time.

This original Clifford the Big Red Dog picture book is for every Clifford fan, young and old. And it's the perfect gift for any milestone -- from graduations to baby

Burn the Water

By (author) Billy Ray

Mar 03, 2026 | Hardcover $27.99

From award-winning screenwriter of The Hunger Games Billy Ray comes an immersive and breathtaking enemies-to-lovers epic romance about war, loyalty, and the power that love has to save... or destroy.

The year is 2425 and London is underwater.

Three hundred years ago, rising oceans drowned a vast majority of the English Isle. London is now a jungle of dead skyscrapers and submerged streets.

Fighting over the scraps of a world none can remember, two Houses -- the Crowns and the Rogues -- have been at war for three centuries.

Rafe is the Rogue army's fiercest captain. Jule is the Crown army's deadliest soldier. They are vicious and merciless, courageous and beloved by their Houses. They are sworn enemies.

And then they fall in love.

It's a death sentence. But their love is all-consuming. As Rafe and Jule try to keep each other alive in their war-torn world, they are forced to confront new, horrifying threats to their loved ones while the hatred between their Houses only grows.

When mysterious foreigners appear on their shores, the warring factions may destroy each other... unless their two most ruthless soldiers can become heroes.

BILLY RAY

Dear Reader,

England is an island.

More and more, I think, we're all beginning to feel like one. Isolated, cut off, as an unspoken and sinister cloud begins to encroach upon our world. We feel alone, powerless.

Yet we're not.

Often, it all feels too big to battle, or even contemplate. The evils feel insurmountable.

They aren't.

Burn the Water is our world—bleak and beautiful, violent and peaceful, deadly yet full of hope. The year is 2425. Much of the globe has drowned. England has no power, no comms, no connection to its sister nations. An island, in every horrible way. Ninety percent of its land is underwater, and the rest of the planet now feels like a rumor. This once noble nation is riven by a war between two rival Houses, the Rogues and the Crowns, doing daily battle over the land that remains, the “Dry Ten.” The battle has raged for centuries.

But it's about to be ended... by love.

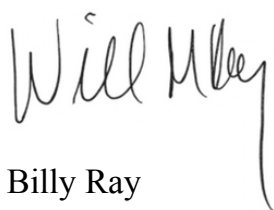

...and by two soldiers, one from each House, who fight to save each other, their neighbors, their armies, their city, and even their nation. Their love is more powerful than war, hate, fear, loneliness... because they refuse to be islands.

There's a lesson here for us, today—about our planet, our humanity, our patriotism, and ourselves.

No, you can't burn the water. But you can be bigger than the water.

That's the story of Rafe and Jule...

Are you a Rogue or a Crown?

Be Right Back

By (author) Bill Wood
Mar 03, 2026 | Paperback, Trade | $20.99

A year after the events of Let's Split Up, the gang returns to their hometown of Sanera for a Halloween festival, only to be drawn into a chilling new mystery when a figure from their past reemerges, turning a nostalgic reunion into a deadly game of cat and mouse.

A year after solving their last mystery, the Sanera gang has split up to pursue college life, leaving their detective days behind —except for Cam, who struggles to move on. Now an assistant coach for the Sanera Sabretooths, Cam feels adrift until the Halloween festival brings the gang back together for a commemorative event. But when Cam sees the Carrington Ghoul — a figure tied to their final case —he's thrust into a new mystery.

As Sanera's Halloween festival descends into chaos, the gang discovers that someone is using local legends to commit gruesome murders. The killer's obsession with their past exploits becomes clear as each murder echoes the myths they once debunked. With the town's history exploited for tourism and the gang's fame drawing unwanted attention, they must unravel the clues before the killer strikes again — this time targeting one of their own.

Facing familiar fears and new terrors, the gang must rely on their wits and each other to survive a twisted plot that threatens to make their past case the stuff of legend —for all the wrong reasons.

Mar 03, 2026 | Hardcover $28.99

India Hill Brown meets Sharon Draper in a spooky, poignant, tour-de-force from Shakirah Bourne -- an ode to Black Boy friendships, the richness of Caribbean history, and the power that comes from reclaiming your past.

Jermaine is NOT destined to be popular at his new elite school. First, he's the poorest kid in class -- no phone, no cool sneakers, no chance. Second, he loves science and can't keep himself from gushing about geology. But after being bullied at his old school, he's desperate for the status and protection that comes from joining the "Turbo Jets"... even if that means abandoning Brody, a fellow outsider who truly wants to be Jermaine's friend.

As part of a hazing ritual, the Turbo Jets dare Jermaine to break into the notorious "haunted Chase Vault" -- the crypt that once housed one of the cruelest enslavers in Barbados and his family. Then they lock him inside as a "joke."

Luckily, Jermaine makes it out unscathed. There's just one problem.

Someone else left the crypt with him.

Someone desperate to learn how she died... and get her revenge.

Jermaine is relieved someone else can see the ghost: his ex-best friend Brody. But freeing her won't be easy. It means ditching the Turbo Jets, teaming up with Brody, and unearthing ugly secrets from the island's colonial past. Will Jermaine

From the #1 New York Times bestselling author of Iceberg and The Free State of Jax comes the harrowing story of the fight for survival during the Great San Francisco Earthquake of 1906 and the desperate race to find survivors.

San Francisco, 1906.

When Cora leaves her house in the early morning hours of April 18th, she expects trouble to find her, like it somehow always does. But as she makes her way to the San Francisco docks to look for her father, the earth begins to shake and suddenly, Cora realizes that she's not just in trouble--she's in danger.

Soon after, the last thing Cora remembers seeing is a tall building swaying overhead, before everything goes dark.

When Cora wakes up, she's trapped underground with Chi, whom she met by accident on the way to the docks. They're running short on air and time, when miraculously, Cora's friend Oliver pulls them from the rubble. Once she's above ground again, Cora is shocked to find herself in a city that has been decimated by a massive earthquake.

Off the page... and into trouble.

At school, Jeremiah's always in trouble for drawing during class and feels helpless and wimpy in the halls. But on the page, Jeremiah has Laugh Riot, a fearless character who helps him take revenge on his mean teachers and bullies in funny ways. Laugh Riot is everything Jeremiah isn't -- brave, cool, and able to fight back.

Then, one day, Jeremiah's least favorite teacher pushes him too far... and the next day, the teacher isn't in school because there was an accident that caused his house to catch fire. After this, Jeremiah starts to notice that the revenges he imagines for Laugh Riot are starting to come to life in very harmful ways.

Is it possible that Laugh Riot isn't staying on the page? And what happens if Laugh Riot starts to have a mind of his own?

Reviews

Praise for The Fish Who Cried Wolf

"A charmingly illustrated story about a plain gray fish who 'blew small bubbles' but 'told tall tales...' Donaldson's gently paced cautionary tale is populated by Scheffler's comical undersea creatures... and the effect is always amusing." -- New York Times Book Review

"Donaldson's rhyming text is crisp and clean, leaving plenty of metaphorical room for Scheffler's expansively imagined art. Always gifted at conjuring up entire worlds (even his spot illustrations feel animated and lovingly detailed), he creates an ocean effervescent with texture, color and vividly expressive personalities. And Tiddler is an excellent reader surrogate: spunky, wide-eyed and ultimately triumphant." -- Publishers Weekly

The Gravewood

By (author) Kelly Andrew
Apr 07, 2026 | Hardcover $27.99

From New York Times bestselling author Kelly Andrew comes the first in a darkly romantic duology that explores disability, obsession, and the twisted limits of loyalty.

Shea Parker has lived her entire life in the shadow of the Gravewood, an impassable forest that's cut off her town from the rest of the world. With resources limited and supplies scarce, Shea is forced to carefully ration her hearing aid batteries. When her stash runs out, she'll be left in the silence.

Desperate, Shea turns to the only person who can help -- Oliver Lysander, the volatile leader of a vampiric gang that rules the Gravewood.

The arrangement between Shea and Lysander starts off simply enough. She gives him her blood. He tracks down batteries. They don't cross any lines. They don't make it personal. But when Shea's best friend is lured into the Gravewood, her disappearance brings her older brother home from the frontlines. Asher Thorley is willing to do whatever it takes to find his sister, even if it means holding Shea's ugliest secrets over her head.

Ever an opportunist, Lysander renegotiates the terms of their deal. If Asher takes out Lysander's vampire rival, Lysander will help him find his sister. And if Shea agrees to Turn, Lysander will give her a cure for her ailing mother. For the first time ever, Shea finds herself leaving home. Swallowed up in the dreamlike dark of the Gravewood and traveling in the company of killers, it isn't long before she risks becoming one herself.

KELLY ANDREW

Dear Reader,

When I was a little girl, I slept in a turtleneck. It wasn't because it was cold—though my father did keep the thermostat at a frosty level, even in the wintertime. It was because I was afraid of vampires. At eight years old, I was consumed by the thought of some sort of Bela Lugosi look-alike swooping through my window in a flutter of black and sinking their teeth into my throat. In my infinite wisdom, I was certain a folded bit of tubular cotton was more than enough to deter any blood-sucking foes.

These days, I am consumed by different fears. When the pandemic hit, the world didn't grind to a halt. It kept going, the way it always does, and the rest of us shifted to fit the change. One late night, while driving across state lines in search of infant formula, a new worry crept in. As a profoundly Deaf woman who uses a cochlear implant, my ability to hear is dependent on a consistent delivery of a special type of battery. If I were to be cut off from that supply, the world would keep on turning, while I marched out of step.

A single question began to keep me awake: If I stopped being able to keep up, would the communities I've built turn their backs on me?

It isn't a worry born out of a void. Studies have shown that divorce rates increase with the onset of a disability. People don't like to be put out. It makes them uncomfortable. And when people are uncomfortable, they lose patience. When people lose patience, they leave.

Shea Parker is a girl trying to figure out where she fits in a collapsing world. She is plagued by the thought of being left when she gets to be too much, consumed by the worry that she might be seen as a burden to those around her. In her efforts to prove herself—and in a desperate bid to find batteries for her hearing aids—she stumbles into the wrong sort of trouble.

Vampire trouble.

The Gravewood is a reconciliation of my deepest fears—both the nightmares of youth and the real-world worries. They each hold weight. And each of them, when taken out and examined in the bald light of day, begin to lose some of the sharpness that made them so terrifying in the first place.

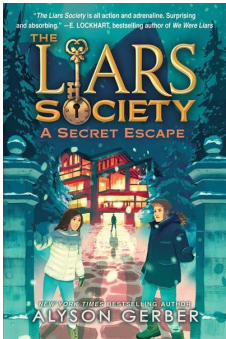

At some point, you realize that the monster was all in your head and the people who matter will stay.

I hope you enjoy her story.

Theft of the Ruby Lotus

By (author) Sayantani DasGupta

Apr 21, 2026 | Hardcover $26.99

Ria Bailey finds herself in quite a fix, and it's all because of a strange treasure that turns up in the mail one fateful day. It might be a ruby, and it just might hold the key to some troubling developments in her life. Most importantly, if she and her besties Miracle Owusu and Annie Hernandez can trace the significance and stay one step ahead of the mysterious strangers tracking their moves through the Metropolitan Museum of Art and out into the city streets of New York, then just maybe Ria can turn things around for herself.

Sayantani DasGupta returns in rare form with a brand new story that's part love letter to the Metropolitan Museum and New York City immigrant families, part twisting and turning heist, and completely an examination of where art belongs, who gets to keep it, and what it means to be on display.

Contributor Bio

B. White Read Aloud Honor Book. She is also the author of Debating Darcy, a contemporary young adult reimagining of Jane Austen's Pride and Prejudice. Sayantani is a pediatrician by training, but now teaches at Columbia University. Deep Secrets (A Titanic Novel)

By (author) Nikki Shannon Smith

Apr 21, 2026 | Paperback, Trade | $12.99

From Nikki Shannon Smith, author of Stranded, comes a story of the Titanic, family, survival, and the secrets we hide from those we love.

Colette only wants three things: to prove she isn't weak, to get a job, and to uncover the mystery surrounding her father. All her life she's heard that he died in a factory accident, but she's haunted by dreams of bitter cold and a sea of stars -- and part of her knows it's somehow connected to him. Colette is not to work, is not to leave the house, and is to never speak of her father. But when Colette secretly gets a job, she becomes fascinated by the stories that Walter, the store owner, tells.

He was aboard the Titanic before it sank. He saw the ship fall beneath the waves and watched as his brother perished in the sea. His memories bewitch Colette in a way she can't explain. She's drawn to the Titanic, and the more she learns, the more intense her dreams become.

Then the stock market crashes. As things get desperate, Colette clings to Walter's stories -- especially the ones about a man he knew who shared her father's name. But then Walter reveals a truth that changes Colette's life and identity forever. Can Colette live the life she's lived all these years, knowing the truth now?

Seamlessly weaving between the Great Depression and a journey aboard the Titanic, Nikki Shannon Smith tells a story about what it means to survive, and all those we leave behind to do so

After My Brother Sam (sequel to My Brother Sam Is Dead)

By (author) James Lincoln Collier
Apr 21, 2026 | Hardcover $27.99

The sequel to the Newbery Honor classic My Brother Sam Is Dead by bestselling author James Lincoln Collier!

Tim has lost both his father and his brother, Sam, to the Revolutionary War. And for what? The war continues, with fighting and bloodshed all around him, no closer to peace. As the violence grows, Tim and his mother struggle to stay neutral, but Tim's anger is unrelenting. Haunted by memories of his brother's final moments, Tim is starting to realize that eventually, everyone must take a side. But which side should pay the price for his brother's death: the British or the Rebels who led Sam into the line of fire? Each played a part in Sam's death, so it's up to Tim to decide how to avenge his brother. Will he be able to get the justice his brother deserves, or will he have to accept the fact that Sam's death was the ultimate price for freedom?

In an all-too-timely sequel, Newbery Honor author James Lincoln Collier picks up the story of My Brother Sam Is Dead in another powerful examination of patriotism, family, and what it means to be an American.

★ "A moving junior novel.... How Sam's fate occurs... is the wrenching part in this story of how the Revolutionary War affects the Meekers, a nonpartisan family of the Tory town of Redding, Connecticut. The story is told through the young Tim Meeker, who guardedly watches the war edge closer and closer until it engulfs his family... A sobering tale that will leave readers with a more mature view of history and war." -- Booklist, starred review

By (author) Michelle Schusterman

Apr 07, 2026 | Paperback, Trade | $12.99

When a dolphin is stranded and trapped in a creek, it's up to a young girl to save the dolphin and get her back to sea -- before a looming hurricane strikes!

When twelve-year-old Dany goes out to sea with her fisherman dad, she expects it to be a normal fishing trip. After all, she's helped her dad on the boat loads of times, and this is meant to be a quick trip. But when a sea squall forms out of nowhere, Dany is suddenly knocked overboard, and even her life vest isn't enough to protect her.

That's when Dany spots something in the water -- a gray dorsal fin heading straight for her! Mercifully, a young bottlenose dolphin has come to her rescue. As the dolphin carries Dany to shore, Dany feels a sense of comfort wash over her, as if the dolphin is telling her everything will be alright... until the dolphin finds itself stuck too far inland in a creek!

To make matters worse, the weather is getting harsher, and a hurricane is on its way. Now it's up to Dany to return the dolphin's favor and get her back to sea. Will Dany be able to save her new friend before it's too late?
